Sound Liberation Festival '09

Saturday August 15th 2009

Littlefield , 622 DeGraw Street, Brooklyn, NY

2pm - 7pm / 7pm - 2am

Sound Liberation Front, a new arts and music organization based in Brooklyn NY, announces their debut: a full-day, 2-part community festival in Brooklyn's vibrant Gowanus neighborhood, headlined by rap legends Brand Nubian, with events and entertainment for kids and adults. This year's concept event is a seed project for a possible annual festival.

Sound Liberation Family Jam

2-7pm | All Ages | Free/Children, Adults/Donations

The day begins at 2pm with the Sound Liberation Family Jam, 5 hours of hands-on activities, arts offerings, and music specifically geared towards the festival's younger fans and their parents.

- Dance workshop with Brooklyn-based Afro Mosaic Soul Collective, in their trademark Mosaic Soul style of house dancing
- DJ workshop by Dubspot, one of the world's top DJ schools
- Additional art workshops and activities to be announced

Food and refreshments will be available at the venue and there will also be additional food vendors on site.

Sound Liberation Party

7pm-2am | 21+ | $15 advance/$18 at the door

At 7pm the Sound Liberation Party begins (21+ please), featuring:

274 Willoughby Ave Apt BQ, Brooklyn, NY 11205
206-819-8383 | www.soundliberation.org

- Brand Nubian (“Slow Down,” “Wake Up,” “All For One”), legends of hip hop’s Golden Age
- Chico Mann electro-afrofunk dance party featuring members of Antibalas
- Ticklah (Easy Star Records, Dub Side of the Moon) dub innovator and producer
- DJ Kenny Parker of the legendary Boogie Down Productions
- And DJs from NYC’s hottest parties: Cosmo Baker (The Rub, Bang!), Ian Friday (Libation/Tea Party Music), and the Music Nerd All-Stars featuring Lil Tiger and Q Mastah
- Artist Shelton Walker will be projecting artwork onto the walls and creating a live performance artwork on the dance floor during Brand Nubian’s set
- Additional artists to be added

Please check our website at www.soundliberation.org for updated lineup, schedule and artists’ bios.

About Sound Liberation Front

SOUND LIBERATION FRONT (SLF) is a new Brooklyn-based non-profit organization devoted to the power of music as a socially liberating and unifying cultural force. In recognition of music’s power as a catalyst to spark social change and transform communities, SLF organizes events in New York’s urban communities, offering a diverse range of music and seeking to work symbiotically with the neighborhoods they serve.

About Littlefield

Littlefield is located at 622 Degraw Street in the Gowanus neighborhood of Brooklyn. A 6,200-foot former industrial warehouse, Littlefield is one of Brooklyn’s newest art spaces and one of the most eco-friendly in all of New York City. Littlefield employs conventional green energy sources such as wind power but has also reduced their raw-resource consumption by recycling innovatively. Boasting an indoor state-of-the-art venue separated from the gallery area and an outdoor courtyard, it is the perfect layout and event space to host the Sound Liberation Front Festival 2009.
